

PINAL COUNTY JUVENILE COURT SERVICES

BEST FOR BABIES Checklist of Services

Purpose: This checklist is intended to document referrals and completion of the essential assessments as well as initiation of services for children under the age of three referred to the Community Coordinator. The information documented on the checklist is intended to be the most current gathered by the coordinator and submitted with each Disposition report. The Coordinator uses various sources for gathering information including attendance at Child and Family Teams, written reports and DCS Specialists updates to name a few.

Definitions

Arizona Early Intervention Program: AzEIP is a statewide system of support for families of children, birth to three years old, with significant developmental delays and/or disabilities. If there is concern about a child’s development, a referral to AzEIP can be made at any time by anyone. Online at: www.azdes.gov/AzEIP

Ages & Stages Questionnaire : The ASQ 3 (third edition) is a developmental screening tool used by Behavioral Health or AzEIP, with input from the caregiver, to assess a child’s development over time. The ASQ 3 should be used at regular intervals and if there are concerns about social/emotional development the ASQ - SE should be utilized. Children in care need developmental screening at regular intervals to detect developmental delays, including social/emotional. Evidence shows that the earlier development is assessed-the greater the chance a child has to reach their potential.

Birth to Five BH or Comprehensive Assessment (can have various names based on the provider): The agency that completes the Rapid Response will conduct a developmental/comprehensive assessment. The assessment takes place over several sessions with the child and primary caregiver in the foster home as well as with biological parents, whenever possible. It includes a developmental screening. A referral should be made to AzEIP if delay is noted.

Dental exams: The American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry recommends young children have a dental exam within 6 months of eruption of the first tooth or 12 months of age, whichever comes first and every 6 months thereafter. Young children exposed to trauma or maltreatment should be seen by a pediatric dentist, as well as a pediatrician, to rule out any possible oral injuries.

Early Periodic Screening Diagnosis & Treatment/Pediatric care: The EPSDT program provides comprehensive health services for AHCCCS enrolled children from birth to 21 years. Services provided by a child’s pediatrician include: health and developmental history; developmental and mental health screening; unclothed physical exam; immunizations; lab tests (including lead screening); vision, hearing, and dental screening; health education, and anticipatory guidance. Age appropriate EPSDT Tracking Forms are available on www.azahcccs.gov. Results may be available on CHILDS.

Immunization records: These records can be obtained from several sources: child’s pediatrician; CPS has access to the ASIIS (Arizona State Immunization Information System, the state database); and CASAs can also obtain medical records.

Medical Home: In the Medical Home model, a pediatrician and the entire practice team provide patient- and family-centered care through a trusting, collaborative, working partnership with families, respecting their diversity, and recognizing that they are the constant in a child’s life.
